

Marymount High School Student Scholars

Santa Monica, CA (November, 2010)—In providing its ninth annual $25,000 scholarship contribution to Marymount High School in Los Angeles, the William H. Hannon Foundation has contributed $225,000 to the Catholic, independent school. For the 2010-2011 academic year, 25% of Marymount's student body will receive financial aid. The Hannon Scholars Program, in the words of the school's Head of School, Jacqueline L. Landry, "has enabled the school to attract and retain wonderful students who wouldn't have otherwise been able to consider Marymount as an option."

"As an alumna of Marymount High School, I am proud of the foundation's Hannon Scholars Program. I know firsthand, as both a former student and as a mother of a daughter who graduated from Marymount, what an impressive, well rounded and academically challenging education the school provides," said Kathleen Hannon Aikenhead, President of the William H. Hannon Foundation.
